

Fall beauties light up the balcony and patio with LECHUZA planters

Summer is over, but that's no reason to be blue. LECHUZA says "Welcome to fall!" In attractive, weatherproof outdoor planters from LECHUZA, fall beauties like aster, heather or coral bells bring vibrant colors that will light up any patio or balcony. Transitioning from summer to fall plantings is just as easy as caring for plants themselves thanks to LECHUZA's proven functionality.

When heavy fog hangs over the fields in the morning and cool winds chase the clouds across the sky, it's time to say farewell to summer and usher in the fall. Once again, nature shows its extravagant side as a fire of colorful blossoms, leaves and grasses ignites. Summer plantings in balcony planters and flower tubs have fulfilled their duty. Now wilted petals are whisked away to make room for fresh new faces on the fall scene.

LECHUZA CASCADA Color lights up the balcony and patio just in time for fall

LECHUZA's modular CASCADA Color planter is the perfect place for vibrant aster, bright Calluna and Gaultheria to mingle and create a gorgeous kaleidoscope of colors. Whether as a standalone planter or two-piece or three-piece tower, CASCADA Color is the perfect way to showcase bold fall colors on the patio or balcony. The eight side openings are ideal for climbing plants. But even colorful grasses such as bronze sedge, fountain grass or blue fescue come to life when combined with fall flowers. Adding hardy plants such as stonecrops or Erica will allow you to enjoy beautiful arrangements in your CASCADA Color planter late in the year, because it is made from high-quality plastic that is 100% frostproof and weatherproof.

The perfect combination: LECHUZA CLASSICO Color & Calluna

Calluna, also known as autumn heather, is likely the most easily-recognized fall messenger. Calluna can feature pink, red, purple or white flowers and retains its bright colors all winter. Planting this fall beauty in a purple garnet LECHUZA CLASSICO Color planter creates a symphony of colors that are sure to banish fall gloom. And there's no reason windows can't house fresh, bright blossoms as the year comes to a close. With purple garnet or nutmeg BALCONERA Color balcony planters, fall plantings truly shine. Transitioning plantings from summer to fall is a breeze thanks to the removable planter liners. By the way: Repeating plants in an oblong balcony planter creates the most powerful effect. So always plant at least two of the same genus to give your arrangement a distinct visual pattern.

Lasting fall enjoyment thanks to LECHUZA

To enjoy your magnificent fall plantings as long as possible, make sure they receive enough moisture, even when temperatures drop when summer is over. But be careful: Waterlogging in pots and tubs damages sensitive roots and should be avoided at all costs. This isn't an issue with LECHUZA planters, thanks to their built-in sub-irrigation system. Every model features a water reservoir that ensures plants receive the amount of moisture and nutrients they need for optimum growth for many days at a time. If too much water enters the planter due to heavy rainfall, the integrated overflow function directs the moisture away, protecting the plant from getting "wet feet".
