

Data Sheet: CUBICO Alto

At a glance

- Slim, sleek and elegant – the highest column planter in the CUBICO family
- Very tall yet exceptionally sturdy
- Includes sub-irrigation system with a 2.1 gal | 8 liter water reservoir
- Not available in retail stores – only for interior landscapers

The tall and elegant CUBICO Alto

While the CUBICO Alto boasts a tall form, its narrow base takes up very little space, making it a perfect way to bring greenery to areas where space is limited. Yet another advantage is its sleek shape from top to bottom. CUBICO Alto may be very tall, but it is also exceptionally sturdy – something that is crucial for use in public buildings. This stylish design combined with a large selection of modern and timeless colors fits seamlessly with many different design styles in offices, reception areas, meeting rooms, restaurants and private spaces – both as a group arrangement or standalone planter. What is practical about this model is that it uses the same plant liner as CUBICO 40, so designers can easily redecorate without worrying about replanting if they already have the smaller model.

For more detailed information concerning CUBICO Alto (e.g. size, colors, price or availability) please contact the PR department.