

Gardening with children – with the CASCADA Color plant tower

Tasty fruits and vegetables on city balconies

Kids should be able to enjoy the flavor of tomatoes and strawberries straight from the vine whenever possible instead of from jars of spaghetti sauce and preserves. It's so much more fun for children to watch all of these yummy treats grow right on their own balcony. Many little ones who once considered themselves allergic to vitamins of any sort discover for the first time how delicious fruits and veggies can be when they are able to harvest them all on their own. You don't necessarily need a garden to grow your own food. Even city kids can dig, sow, plant, water and reap the fruits of their labor right on their own balcony. Anyone can plant healthy treats like tomatoes, cucumbers, bell peppers, fresh herbs and even a variety of fruits in space-saving balcony or patio planters. To make the most of the space available, we recommend selecting planters that allow you to plant on different levels, like balcony planters, hanging baskets or plant towers, for instance.

Family gardening with CASCADA Color

Big sister, little brother? LECHUZA's innovative CASCADA Color plant towers can be stacked up to three high, stopping squabbles before they start. This not only saves space, but also gives everyone a chance to tend to their own plants: Depending on their height – the plant tower can be stacked up to 49 in | 124 cm high – mini gardeners can look after their own space and plant luscious strawberries or small bush tomatoes. CASCADA Color's eight side openings also offer plenty of room for fresh herbs, leaf lettuce or lovely nasturtium.

Functionality and quality

CASCADA Color boasts all of the wonderful features that make LECHUZA planters so unique. Each planter comes with an integrated sub-irrigation system with a 2.1 gal | 8 liter water reservoir that ensures that all plants – including those planted in the side openings – always receive the amount of moisture and nutrients they need for optimum growth for days without further watering. The high-quality material is frostproof and UV-resistant and an overflow function prevents waterlogging at the roots. CASCADA Color is 11 in | 20 cm high and 19 in | 49 cm in diameter including the side openings.
